The vote follows:

Carolina, made the principal speech in support of the President's stand, declaring two increases had been granted Civil War veterans since 1918 and prevailing laws were wide enough in scripe to take care of exceptional cases.

Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia, charged the President with having become a "lobbyist on executive matters" declaring "the scene of his activities is the White House break'ast table and his subjects are members of Congress."

The Senate and packed galleries followed the vote with close attention and at the conclusion but befolgs fhe result was announced it appeared the veto had been overridden by one vote. Announcement by Senator Harreld, Republican, Oklahoma, that he desired to "correct" his vote to place it in the sustaining column threw the result in favor of President Coolidge.

The information was given in a debate on a report of the judiciary committee, later accepted, which confirmed the legality of the existing restrictions in the church discipline.

"Believing that a woman has had grounds for divorcing her husband for infidelity," Rev. Orien W. They often perform the marriage ceremony on that assumption."

The town is beautifully situated, in a picturesque, natural valley. An abundance of fishing streams and mountain retreats near-by in which game abound, are expected to make it a great recreational center.

Mountains is 3.3 per cent.

Clearing and preliminary grading is now being done for ten miles above the end of the present completed grade. At intervals of two and one-half miles camps have been established. The obstacles to overcome in establishing these bases are almost apalling. Every foot of lumber, every nail used in their construgtion, as well as all food and clothing, must be transported from 4he-end of the rails first by team and wagon, and then for several miles by pack horses. The mud is deep at present, and only the strongest men and animals can battle through it.

mals can battle through it.

TO BE SCENIC ROUTE

Scenically this route is destined to be acclaimed one of the most wonderful in the West. The picturesque, dashing Williamstie River is followed from Eugens to Oakridge, and from there on for several miles the grade clings high up on the side of the mountains, overlooking Salt Creek, which flows a wiftly in its bed lined on both sides with giant, virgin timbers. As soon as the railroad is completed, it is expected that dozens of summer resorts will epring up in the mountains.

The railroad will open up one of the richest districts in Oregon, and will bring the north and south portions of the Pacific Coast several hours nearer. The people along the line are jubilant, and so optimistic of the future that they are investing their all in business and other property. A great many outsiders are also flocking into Cakridge and other points in the Willamette Valley, and already plans are being made for large sawmills and factories.

The line taps one of the greatest bodies of timber in the world. The Western Lumber Company, which is building a mill at Westfr. cowns 4,500,000,000 feet of timber, enough so that if the area is reforested as cut, the stand will last forever. Lane county contains one thirty-sixth of the timber in the United States, and over half of this is in the Cascade forest, which is opened by the new railroad.

Wisconsin—Few farmers excited over the measure. The bulk of sentiment spems to be against the price-fixing theory. In this State which leads them all for intensified, diversified agriculture, the prevailing attitude of the farmer is that price-fixing will prove more harmful than beneficial to the farmer. They are more interested in lower freight rates, and taxes than in the McNary-Haugen bill.

BACKERS REASONS

Much support for the bill is artifictally stimulated and the propagands in favor is coming not only from politicians and farm organizations, but from business and manufacturing groups who have been selling the much on credit terms and who welcome anything that might put the farmer in better position to pay. In cities and hamlets along the routs, we have found some of the most emphatic advocates of the McNary-Haugen bill among the business men.

Land tealers who are anxious for land buying to start up again—there is no market now and so few sales that nobody knows what the present values of land are in some sections have been helping to inspire sentiment for the bill. Fume Troubles Eliminated by New Discovery

IEXCLUSIVE DEFFACES

NEW YORK, May 13.—Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson has announced the discovery of a chemical compound, the use of which, in combination with commercial gasoline, virtually eliminates all danger from toxic discharges of the deadly carbon monoxide from the exhausts of sutomobiles.

Dr. Hutchinson's development came about through the use of an experimental compound, the formula of which is not yet revealed in the gas tank of one of his automobiles. By the introduction of a single ounce of the compound in five gallons of ordinary gasoline in the tank of his car some six months ago, he said he found he was no longer annoyed by the accumulation of carbon deposits in the cylinders and the consequent "knocking" of the motor. He said the monoxide exhaust was reduced more than 50 per cent.

After all, it is the youngster who battles through such difficulties as these who really gets the most out of his college education. Argue is no "spoiled darling" like a lot of athletes who might be mentioned. He has never been a sorehead, hasn't crabbed decisions, always played clean and overlooked his own personal interests to accomplish the most for his college.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER Cliff Argue's announced de-cision not to try out for the American Olympic track and field team means the loss of a very fine athlete and a genuine sportsman from the squad. HE BEAT PADDOCK---ONCE

Here is Loren Murchison, one of America's hopes in the 100 and 200-meter runs and 400-meter relay for the forthcoming Olympic Games. Loren, who now computes for the Newark A. C., formerly ras for the Illinois and then the New York Athletic clubs. He was selected by Fred Rubien for the All-American athletic team of 1923 in fow events—the 60, 100, 220 and 300-yard dashes, the first time any runner has been so honored. Murchison is best at indoor racing, where he holds several world's records, but outdoors he has scored many notable victories, chief among them being a clean-cut win over Scholz, Paddock and Kirksey in the 1920 Olympic tryouts in the 100-meter run. At the Antwerp Olympiad four years ago "Murch" had hard luck, for at the start of the finals of the 190 meters he had the misfortune to be left at the post. A Belgian official told him to move his fingers back onto the white chalk line. Loren started to stand up—and the gun went off!

Murchison is a beautiful runner, with a good high-knee action and a perfect arm motion. He will be hard to beat. for the Illinois and then the New York Athletic clubs. He was sele

Take care of your eyes.

I am very sure that careless reading and too many movies are very hard on good batting. Avoid reading too long or in an unnatural position, such as lying down. Use a proper light over your back. I don't ever read on a train, because it is hard on my eyes. But you have to study to improve your mind, so don't use this as an excuse to dedge school books.

TEE, FAIRWAY

THE SHORT PUTT

Now for my method of play. I have a special grip for the short putt. I grasp the leath-er firmly with the left hand fingers, the left thumb straight fingers, the left thumb straight down the shaft. The right hand with thumb across and around the shaft is placed somewhat over the left and merely acts as a steadying intuence. On many of these putts I have put my right hand entirely over my left with good results. At times I have pinched the left thumb and forefinger on the grip which has allowed me not to hold the club too loosely so that the clubhead does not stop when it hits the ball but goes through it. And yet there is such a thing as gripping the club too tight. When I do this I think of relaxing my other muscles a little, and I hold my club with less tension, especially on the shorter shots. And I let the clubhead meet the ball before I put my strength into it remembering that it must do its share. I found it so helpful to relax enough to feel the clubhead swing like a weight, If I dropped my right hand lower on the shaft I found that my play was not so good owing to too much assistance from my right hand fingers and thumb. You see that I put one-handedly within this area, and do not allow the right hand to push this shot through.

I stand almost crouching with the feet fairly far apartweight on the left leg, left toes pointing approximately at the hole: elbows crooked equally and paralleling an imaginary direction line, and my eyes gaze straight down upon the ball as if they were following the direction of a plumb line.

I play the ball comfortably off my left foot, and I try to be very careful and sure to sort of expert mental location.

I cannot too much impress the need of extreme delicacy in the first part of the stroke. I place the putting face of the club, resting comfortably on the ground, at right angles to the imaginary direction line, I start the stroke with a very delicate vibratory motion, and then press forward gently on the club until the hands are a very little in advance of the clubhead. I bring them back behind it a tiny bit, clubhead still on the ground, and then take hands and club back together. Now with the tiniest break of the wrist hit down into the imaginary direction line being sure that the hands are the least bit back of the clubhead at the time of contact with the ball.

"Dottor—not like that." She held out her hand.

But he did not heed it, for he had turned to the door and opened it, going from her quickly like a man fleeing from temptation.

He pussled her, and rather bewildered her. His changes of attitude were like the shifting surface of a pool under the touch of a breeze. Yet it was probably all due to his love for her, and its hopelessness. She could not help but pity him.

She heard the outer door slam after him, and sat down to think.

This was the end of her old life at last. Everybody was gone—Marthe away on the coast: Dr. Laplerre stepping through her door into the unknown, perhaps never to be seen again; Kendrick—God alone knew where Kendrick was or if he would ever return to her,
or if ever she would see him.

With her own hands she had

Of her own will she had guided planning for her.

There could be no turning back

Advertisement Brunel, once the contract was and there, found nothing but praise for her.

They were feverish days for Elise, feverish in their strain and in their excitement. She read her new name wherever she went, on the boardings, in the journals, everywhere. She heard it on the lips of the people who sat about her when she luncaed or dined with Brukel, as she now did often. And all the time she worked and worked, trying to smother and still that voice which repeated to her that every day was one cut off from those 385 which Lapierre had given her.

It came at last—the premiere—ability at a big school. Incidentally it was his fussing around in half a dozen events which developed his sprinting ability, which was never suspected in prep days.

The believers in the "big school" idea will always believe that Argue would have done better to attend a big college and the rooters for the "small college" idea will always point to Argue's fame as an example of what can be done by a good athlete at a small school. Take your choice. Incidentally, it is to be hoped that something can be done to make it possible for Argue to try out for the Olmypic team as men of his ability are surely needed.

Will Harlan Fengler turn

Will Harlan Fengler turn out to be everything that his friends hope as a speed king? The Indianapolis race will give a good line on the kid's chances to step into the boots of Milton. Hearne and the other stars who have worn the diadem. Fengler seems to have the nerve and the bead as well as the ability to have his car "right" when the big day rolls around. But he is up against mighty fast company with such old heads as Milton,

Blue Monday Becomes a Myth-the Housekeeper a New Woman

Gone the days when there lurked in the shadows of one's week-end pleasures, the shadow of Wash Day. One had a choice of three evils! That uncertain quantity, the Washer-woman—listing the laundry, with the fervent hope it would all be returned and that your newest blouse would not be ruined, or the do-ityourself method, thereby spending a hot-sudsy day and a weary evening recuperating.

The Easy Vacuum Electric Washer, competent to do the hugest washings, thorough enough to cleanse the heaviest pieces, gentle enough to be trusted with the daintiest fabrics. Swiftly, surely it does its work. It will begin next Monday for you — only a small payment down, small payments weekly. Fourth Floor.

ARTHUR CRAM DIES IN REDLANDS HOSPITAL

REDLANDS, May 13.—Arthur Cram, 36 years of age, son of Mr. in the West, it was stated this morning by W. F. Mixon, secretary of the California Highway Commission.

The State highway committee of nine met last night with the Board of Supervisors to discuss the work and Mr. Mixon stated that as soon as county squabbles could be adjusted, the work would proceed. Money has been appropriated for the building of the proposed concrete causeway, and for the changes in coast highway lines now being planned, it was stated at the meeting.

In addition to the building of the new roadway to replace the present wooden structure along the ocean, the highway plans call for the construction of a sea wall and the switching of the Coast road from its present route over Ortega Hill to water level routes around the ocean side of the hill, eliminating one of the steep grades of Ventura Boulevard.

NEW YORK "TIMES" MARKET AVERAGES

BOND QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, May 13.—Bond prices lagged in today's desultory trading, the principal feature of which was heaviness of French, Japanese and Mexican issues, re-

Japanese and Mexican issues, reacting on political developments in these countries. Prices of domestic liens were variable.

French 7½s lost a point and the new Japanese 6½s dropped back to near the year's low level. The controversy raging in Mexico City over the terms of the debt agreement and the failure of the government to obtain a loan contributed to declines of a point or more in Mexican government 4s and the 5 per cent certificates.

Conspicuous weak spots in the domestic list were Ajax Rubber 8s, which dropped 3 1-4 points to 75 1-4, and Minneapolis and St. Louis refunding 5s, which fell back more than 2 points to 15, both new low prices for the year. Weakness of the Ajax bonds, however, was not communicated to other rubber issues, although shares of these companies moved lower. Liberty bonds and railroad mortgages were shaded fractionally. CHICAGO, May 13.— Increased European requirements. Cattle active and higher,

OTION pictures are re-cording history, advancing education and providing entertainment for hundreds of people all over the globe. While future generations can only conjure a mental picture of Washington's tattered heroes at Valley Forge, Pershing's doughboys will march before their very eyes in motion pictures. Presidents Roosevelt, Harding and Wilson, whom motion pictures have made

The Sunshine City. No city in the world has been more greatly favored in climate and natural resources than Los Angeles. No city has made better use of its natural advantages in every branch of industry. We are vitally interested in the commercial and industrial development of the city. During the past forty years The Harris Organization has bought millions of dollars of bonds issued for Los Angeles' municipal, public utility and other enterprises, and has sold these bonds to a constantly growing list of investors throughout the United States. This is one of a series of advertisements featuring some of the city's industries.

Defendant Identified Woman Witness

Bailey, Montijo and Perry Accused of Murder

The trial of Tom Bailey, Ed Montije and Louis Perry, asserted bank bandits charged with the murder of Patrolman Glenn E. Bond, was begun yesterday in Judge Keetch's department of the Superior Court. The jury, composed of eight men and four women, was completed at noon after four and a half days had been consumed in its selection. The prosecution then proceeded to lay the groundwork for its case. Irvin Sweet, a cousin of the slain police officer, was the first witness. He identified the bloodstained clothing worn by the murdered officer as that which had been worn at the time of the killing.

TRIAL ADJOURNED

The trial was adjourned until 10 a.m. today.

A guard of deptity sheriffs was stationed in the courtroom throughout the day after reports had been received by Judgs Keetch that an attempt would be made to liberate the three accused kil-

"In the current assessment year, from March 1, 1923 to March 1, last, we found that $4.800 new building lots had come on the market in this county, as compared with $1,000 in the former assessment period. Time for Release of Noted Indian's Spirit is Near at Hand; Getoutofthe Wayand Letmerun Began Second Street Hole; Now Successor Says it'll Be Done by July

The insane man, who gave the name of Chris Kuveles, 31 years of age, picked up the crowber from the gutter. It had been left there by excavators working in the street. Without warning he flashed about and struck Mrs. Cecolia Vassier, 65 years of age, of 407 Record street, Belvedere Gardeus, on the head with the heavy iron ban She fell to the sidewalk unconscious, her skull having been fractured by the blow.

Then the crazed man, screaming curses and shouting at the top of his voice, dashed to a group of people standing on the corner waiting to cross. Using the steel bar as a fiail, he struck Mrs. Lucia Negreta of 158 Echandia.

Contracts for the Ninth-street viaduct, the first of the six new viaducts to be built across the railroad iracks and the Los Angeles River will be awarded next month by the Board of Public Works, and the work started on this viaduct at once. The County Supervisors are preparing to start work at once on the flood control works authorized by the voters at last week's election, the first step being the preparation of detailed engineering plans for the protective improvements. Some of these will be built by next fall so as to afford relief from sterm waters during next winter's rains.

City Engineer Griffin has asked the Council for additional draftemen to prepare plans for reconstructing at once the twelve unsafe, inadequate bridges which are to be rebuilt under the $1,000,000 bond issue authorized at last week's election.

Recent rains and particularly the climatic conditions following, says the current crop review of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Company, have been very beneficial to walnut groven. "The trees are now coming out of the dormant stage," continues the review, "and it will be possible within a few weeks to estimate with some degree of accuracy the prospects for the new crop.

"Growers are being urged to irrigate heavily at this time, for the growth period of the nut occurs during May. The moisture available to the trees during the growth period will largely determine the size of the nut.

"But," said Mr. Eldridge, "you never can tell, something may happen to hold the tunnel work up a little. However, I think it will be completed sometime."

MIX-UP IN DIVORCE.

The matter of Atty. Clarke's ablutions fell into the hopper of the Superior Court by way of Mrs. Weber's suit for divorce on cruelty grounds. Clarke represents Mrs. Weber in this action. Some time ago custody of the children was awarded her.

On the 7th inst., according to his amdavit and testimony, Weber passed his wife's home shortly before 7 o'clock in the morning and noted Clarke's car outside. It occurred to him that it was early in the day for a legal conference, so he stepped up to a window and listened in. Then he walked in. He found Clarke dressing, he declared.

He then proceeded to file a motion that custody of the children he given him.

INCIDENT EXPLAINED INCIDENT EXPLAINED
These circumstances being related and corroborated and admitted by Clarke in court yesterday, the Hawthorne attorney explained that he had merely dropped in for his morning hot and cold. He put so reasonable a construction upon the incident that Judge Guerin did not feel constrained to take the children from Mrs. Weber.
"I must say, however," the court remarked, "that a man of Courselor Clarke's experience should know better than to drop in at a woman's house for a bath at such an hour."

one, has been bell over one the state of the tionality in the country as recorded by the latest census.

Three-fourths of the immigrants during the next three years will come from Northern and Western Europe. The quota for the British Isles is the highest, more than 50,000. Germany is second with 30,000. Then come Norway, Sweden and Poland with from 5000 to 10,000. France, Russia and Italy have not more than 5000. No other country can sead more than 1000. The gross immigration for the next three years is 161,990. If some of the quotas are unfilled the number will be less.

Explaining the intent of the new immigration bill, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, author of the Senate bill, said:

It is true that 75 per cent of our immigration will hereafter come from Northwestern Europe; but it is fair that it should do so, because 75 per cent of us who are now here owe our origin to immigrants from these same countries.

A new national policy has been promulageted, perhaps even more important to the American people themselves than the Monroe Doctrind. Senator Lodga considers the immigration bill the most important measure passed by Congress during the thirty years that he has been a member of that body. When one considers that this includes two declarations of war, one gets a clearer view of the probable effect on the future of this legislation. During the ten years prior to 1914 the number of immigrants arriving averaged more than 1,600,000 a year. The peak was reached in 1914, when 1,218,480 arrived. The total number of immigrants arriving in this country since 1820 is about 35,000,000 or one-third the present population.

Limiting immigration tends to increase the cont of living for it outs of the augusty present population.

Limiting immigration tends to increase the cost of living, for it cuts off the supply of cheap fereign labor; but it will also result in the gradual elimination of foreign communities on American soil. There will be no more "little Germany." "little Russia," "little Poland" or "little Italy."

Senator Reed sets forth the following reason for what may be termed our drastic immigration laws:

On my "off" days his love for me obviously cooled. But mercifully there was the beau whose sympathy and tenderness were only intensified on those "off" days, whose consideration for me was redoubled, who wanted to envelop me in his protective love on the very days when I was least "attractive." That man was a real "lover"—and I had the gumption to know it. That kind helps to make heaven on earth.

But in this heaven where all women are beautiful (and, of course, vide the ministers, dutiful) how shall we ever know who loves us as distinct from those discomforting people who only admire us? It is quite horrid to have to live up to admiration. And quite enchanting to live up to just love. on Manhattan Case

The first hearing into Manhattan Beach's political turmoil was conducted before the county grand jury yesterday during the investigation of charges that Carl W. Bull; former Mayor, and others entered a conspiracy to defeat certain of their political opponents by planting liquor in their cars and then having them arrested.

According to information given

Harry Raymond, chief detective for the District Attorney, Frank Bisbee, associated with a private detective agency, rapped at the door of H. C. Avey, a political opponent of ex-Mayor Bull, at the same time that some one else placed a bottle of liquor in Avey's ney Blaire, private detective, implicated in the case of Grant Mc-Cartney in an asserted attack on the latter's wife, planted liquor in the car of J. Among the witnesses yesterday before the grand jury were Mrs. Mae Bisbee, wife of Frank Bisbee, who is said to have accompanied her husband on a trip to the beach town, and Henrietta Clifford, secretary of the private detective agency with which Bisbee and, at one time, Blair were associated. The secretary is said to have testified regarding records of the agency which were seized by Detectives Sprankling and Chriss.

It is charged by Raymond that Bull planned the affair. Bisbee, Blaire and Bull were arrested, but Bull was released on bail of $5000 by Justice Hanby pending the filing of a complaint or his release. The investigation was conducted before the grand jury by Chief Deputy Fricke and Deputy Richardson. It will be continued tomorrow, it was stated.

Schulberg Buys Plays

Having shopped in New York for plays during the past few months, R. P. Schulberg will shortly return to Hollywood with a comforting sense of duty well done. For Mr. Schulberg has secured the rights to no less than nine important plays and stories which he will make into pictures under the will make into pictures barner during the will make into pictures it play of American life "White Collars," by Edith Ellis, starts upon its seventeenth week of prospectity at the Egan Theater Monday evening. But this isn't all. While in New York Mr. Schulberg signed two British screen actresses, Betty and Stella Doyle, to appear in his production, contributed for the most part by Mabel Forrest George Sherwood and Paul Kruger.

"Roy Miller is a presty wise bird, but this time he guessed wrong. He calls this 'Laugh-a-Week' at the California Theater," Will Rogers chuckled grimly. "But the joke's on Roy. Why? Because he's runnin' one of my pictures."

I caught Rogers between social engagements—that is, after entertaining 400 exhibitors and their wives, and just, before tuning up his jokograph for some Hawaiian pole players. Manipulating the

Bei Geddes With De Mille

Normal Bei Geddes, noted interior decorator, architect and stage artisan of international fame, comes to motion pictures as perhaps the most versatile genius ever to leave the traditional forms of art for the cinema. Mr. Bei Geddes is now at the Lasky studio with Cecil B. De Mille, absorbing the technical phases of the art of motion-picture directing. White with Mr. De Mille he will design two elaborate sets for "Feet of Clay," De Mille's current picture.

Foreign Invasion Note

Once again a stage star slips into the silence of pictures. This time it is Lucilla Mendez, daughter of a former President of faroff Venezuela, who has been appearing on the stage in "Little Jessle James," and who is expected in Hollywood any day now, deserting stage for screen work. She will appear in pictures under direction of Ralph Ince.

Avoids Sanity Hearing

Amos P. Spencér, wealthy retired merchant of Oakaloosa, Iowa-defendant in a suit for $151.000 heart balm instituted by Mrs. Clara Bell Lessig of $24 South Wilkon Place, will not face a jury in Judge Monroe's court tomorrow in a sanity hearing. a stipulation entered into between attorneys representing Spencer and Mrs. Lessig yesterday having dismissed such action contingent upon the preschot-f-promise action that Spencer is of sound mind. It does not indicate, according to Joe Crall, attorney for the defendant, any possibility of a settlement off of court of the heart balm case. The ex parte order calling for sanity hearing before a jury was granted last Friday by Presiding Judge York upon petition of Mrs. Lessig: Milton F. Martie, who asserts he is a friend of Spencer, and William A. Barnhill, one of Mrs. Lessig: sattorneys. The petition was prevented after attorneys representing Spencer were successful in the ground that the man is "mentally sick and on the verge of insanity. Jack F. Shephard, a con-in-law of Spencer, was named guardian by Judge Willis and Monday. This growth was set fer April 25, last. These allogations are made the basis of a second suit, also for 1510,000, against Jack F. Shephard, relatives of Spencer, and G. R. Settlement Seen in Beach Suits
Over Gas Plant

Settlement out of court of differences between John A. Rodgers, one of the principal figures in the recent litigation involving the proposed municipal gas plant at Long Beach and the city government of the beach municipality, was indicated yesterday when four actions brought by Rodgers against the beach officials were ordered stricken from the calendar in Judge Collier's court. Both sides failed by the defendants in the cases had been called for hearing.

With one exception, the suits asked for the recovery of sums of money Rodgers asserted were illegally used. His fourth action was designed to restrain the city government from spending more than $8000 on a municipal baseball park.

The general tenor of the complaints was that money given for the acquisition of certain park property and for equipment for the gas plant project was withdrawn from the city treasury contrary to the provisions of the city chartes.

While interest in the National, Oratorical Contest has been keen

With the best oratorical talent from the high schools of five States represented in the six orators who will take part, the battle will be the focus of interest over a wider area than any of the other preliminaries. Communications are reaching Director Blanks by the hundred, not only from local enthusasts boosting the Southern California orator, Don Tyler, but also from Arisona, Oregon, Washington and Idaho, the citizens of which are equally concerned about their own champions. Many letters and telephone calls also come from former citizens of these States now living in Los Angeles, who say they will attend the meeting to cheer on their representatives from their home States.
